Introduction

The Dermatology Foundation is pleased to introduce a new research award made possible by a generous contribution from Sun Pharmaceutical Industries, Inc—the 2019 Sun Pharma Research Award. The Foundation welcomes award applications for basic, clinical or translational research related to inflammatory skin disorders.

This award is designed to support the research of outstanding mid-career investigators. It is the expectation that Sun Pharma Research Award applicants are actively pursuing “R” funding to further their research and academic careers in dermatology.

About the Dermatology Foundation

The Dermatology Foundation was founded in 1964 as a charitable organization whose mission is to enable advancements in patient care by supporting innovative research completed by promising investigators. It is understood that this core mission of the DF will expand our understanding of a broad array of dermatologic diseases as well as systemic diseases with cutaneous manifestations and foster the development of new and improved treatments. To achieve these goals, the Foundation designed and established a comprehensive Research Awards Program with funding mechanisms that serve all areas of the specialty.

Since its creation, the DF has allocated over $70 million to support the novel research of talented investigators and educators in dermatology and cutaneous biology.

Award Details

a. Description

The Sun Pharma Research Award is intended to support an outstanding mid-career investigator with an established trajectory in basic, clinical or translational science. The proposed research should yield novel results that expand the understanding and/or treatment of patients with inflammatory skin disorders including but not limited to psoriasis or atopic dermatitis. Research proposals are expected to be hypothesis-driven and should span a three-year period.

b. Amount and Effective Date

The Sun Pharma Research Award provides $100,000 in annual support for up to three years. Award funds may be used for any combination of salary and related benefits, and project expenses. Award funds may not be used for indirect expenses. Funding for year one of the award will be effective July 1, 2019.

c. Award Eligibility Requirements

This award is designed to support outstanding investigators committed to developing new treatments for inflammatory skin diseases. The specific eligibility requirements are as follows:

1. M.D.; M.D., Ph.D.; D.O.; or Ph.D. degree
2. Appropriate training and experience in relevant research
3. Faculty member with a primary appointment in U.S. dept./division of dermatology no greater than 10 years beyond his or her initial appointment as an Assistant Professor
4. Demonstrates a strong commitment to research in inflammatory skin diseases
5. Strong institutional commitment for the PI exists
6. Recipient may concurrently hold federally funded awards or their equivalent (e.g. NIH, VA, DOD, FDA, Doris Duke, Burroughs Wellcome, etc.)
7. At least 75% effort committed to research
8. Research aims are unique to this award
9. Cannot hold other DF support at the time of funding (CDA-Yr3 recipients may apply)
10. Award cannot be used for indirect expenses

Minorities are encouraged to apply.

d. General Eligibility Requirements

The Sun Pharma Research Award is subject to the Dermatology Foundation's general eligibility requirements for its Research Awards Program, which must be met at the time of funding (i.e. July 1, 2019). As a result, the research funded by this award must be conducted in the U.S. under the sponsorship of a division or department of dermatology that has an ACGME-approved dermatology residency program. A project involving human subjects must have IRB approval at the time funding commences and throughout the term of the award.

e. Application Deadline

Application packages for the 2019 Sun Pharma Research Award will be accepted by the Dermatology Foundation via email through Monday, September 17, 2018. The DF will send a reply email to confirm receipt the week of September 17th.

f. Additional Considerations

There is no limit to the number of award applications that may be submitted per institution. In addition, the recipient of this award agrees to be available to present their research to the Dermatology Foundation and/or the sponsor of this award.

g. Selection Process

A single recipient will be selected by the DF's Board of Directors based on the recommendations of the Medical and Scientific Committee. Application for renewal of the award is required. Renewal of the award for year two and three will be based on a non-competitive review of the recipient's progress to date.
